Superhero love

I just wanted to thank you for writing the article on The Dark Knight. It really showed how far the Batman franchise has come since 1989. The evolution of the characters and the actors who have played them is really incredible. I also loved the tribute to Heath Ledger in Last Take. It is nice to know his work is being honored after he is gone.

A Tribute to Heath Ledger

1979 – 2008
A father, a friend, an inspiration

FROM a budding singer to a get-rich-quick entrepreneur, Heath Ledger's success story gave him the ability to give star and dramatic characters. At a time when the world was waiting to know how powerful an actor could become, he was not alone. In 1991, on January 22, 2008, when news broke of his sudden death in his New York City apartment, the world finally became a legend as he had become a star.

Born in Perth, Western Australia on April 4, 1979, the ambitious, yet surprising star never drove across the country to Hollywood to pursue an acting career until the age of 16. After a few appearances on Australian television shows and independent films, the aspiring actor moved to Hollywood where he got his big break in the sex comedy 10 Things I Hate for stars, gaining him an Oscar nomination for In the Heart of the Country. Playing a father-mentor duo in Country, a teenage-romantic duo in Country, and one of seven high school proms in The Hot Chick, continued to prove Ledger's versatility as an actor to the upcoming Harmon film. The Dark Knight role will be Ledger's as one of his best roles as the Joker—a performance director Christopher Nolan says, "will show people's souls."

Though he left behind a young son, Kim, and a wife, Mila, and a daughter, Maddie, his ability to act in unconventional roles throughout the span of his career has led him to the post of Heath Ledger, a Hollywood star, and a true legend.

Fashion junky

I like seeing what all the celebrities wore at the Cannes Film Festival in your Flash page. As someone who admires high fashion, but can't really afford to buy it, it is always nice to see what the trends are and how gorgeous the stars look when they get all dressed up.

—Chloe K.

Star gazing

I really enjoy reading my horoscope in your magazine. I am fascinated by celebrity culture and it's cool to see which star you feature. My friends and I always huddle together in the movie theatre and read each other's horoscope trying to see if there is any truth to them. Most of the time there is something I can relate to.

—Sharon L.

Back in action

After reading through all the previews in the magazine, I was glad to see the focus is returning to action movies. I really look forward to the season's movies and what big blockbusters are coming out. Mentioning movies that star so many of my favorite actors, like Christian Bale and Brendan Fraser, really gets me excited.

—Mike J.

Canadian scoop

I was glad to read about Canadian director Rob Stewart in your last Scoop section. It's nice to see talented Canadians get recognized for their work. I saw his film Sharkwater in theatres and it really moved me. I didn't know anything about the poaching that goes on and it really makes you think twice when you see a shark fin for sale at the grocery store.

—John B.

scoop

DeGuzman and Potts are rumored to be getting married, and good friend Justin Timberlake has offered to perform.

Stewart receives Vision Award
Canadian director and star of the critically acclaimed and multi-award-winning movie Sharkwater received an award for Environmental Vision at the 20th annual Vision Awards in Los Angeles. The event, which took place at the Shrine Auditorium, honored members of the Hollywood creative community—producers, directors, actors, musicians and sports figures—who have "made their 'right, thoughtful and insightful' creative products which bring special experiences and educational value to audiences around the world."

Smith's school
Inspired with the public school system, Will Smith has started his own school called the New Village Academy in California, California. The school, opening this fall, will feature tailored math and reading programs, organic, vegetarian meals and a larger school day. Tuition is expected to be $12,000 per year.

Spears sex tape?
Britney Spears' ex, pop singer Adam Carlin, is reportedly shopping around a sex tape made during the couple's trip to Hawaii, Mexico in January. On the tape, Spears is allegedly seen receiving her infamous goth wig. Sources say that if this tape becomes available to the public, it could be the highest selling sex tape of all time.

Here come the brides
Now that the state of California has lifted the ban on gay marriage, we can expect to see several gay couples competing walking down the aisle. The most high-grossing pairing is likely to be...

Lohan's mink mishap
Lindsay Lohan is in hot water again, she's being sued for allegedly suing for a $12,000 mink coat belonging to college student Marko Lohan's mink. Lohan reportedly grabbed the fur this is not the first time. Lohan has been sued, she was sued for cheating, her former assistant with her car last summer on accident that led to a crash, and is being sued by her former bodyguard for unpaid wages.

Casting call

Brad Pitt is in talks to star in Quentin Tarantino's upcoming Inglorious Bastards. The long-anticipated film centering around World War II will start production this fall. Also, Robert Downey Jr. is set to star in the new Sherlock Holmes adaptation, directed by Guy Ritchie. Ritchie's version is said to be more adventurous than previous versions and will be released around the same time as Columbia's comedic Holmes adaptation starring Sacha Baron Cohen and Will Ferrell.

Back to school for James Franco

James Franco, who recently graduated from UCLA, is continuing his studies. The 30-year-old actor will be heading back to school in September to enroll in graduate studies at New York University. "I'm going back to school because I love being around people who are interested in what I'm interested in," Franco told The New York Daily News. The Pineapple Express star hopes to hone his writing skills at NYU, and has already co-written and directed The Ape, Fool's Gold and Good Time Max.

Hayden Panettiere to follow in Lindsay's footsteps

It worked for Lindsay Lohan and Hilary Duff, and now Heroes star, Hayden Panettiere, is taking a stab at success in the pop music world. Panettiere is banking on the popularity of her hit TV show, and her sponsorship deals with Candie's and Neutrogena, to get her music career in full-swing. The 18-year-old actress released her first single "Wake Up Call" on Ryan Seacrest's L.A. radio show to great reviews. Panettiere describes her music as "very different, very diverse. Like pop, rock, maybe more of an R&B thing."

Smith, Diaz are top moneymakers

According to the latest rankings from Forbes magazine, it's been a very good year for Will Smith, who took home an astonishing $80 million last year—putting him at the top of Tinseltown's highest paid actors. Cameron Diaz is not far behind, banking an impressive $50 million, making her the top-earning female in Hollywood. Other stars walking around with bulging wallets include Johnny Depp, who came in at number two with $72 million, and Mike Myers and Eddie Murphy tied at number three with $55 million each. Oprah Winfrey is still unbeatable when it comes to media personalities, cashing in a staggering $275 million.

Matthew Broderick caught cheating on Sarah Jessica Parker?

Sarah Jessica Parker's 11 year marriage to Matthew Broderick may be in jeopardy thanks to reports that the actor cheated on his wife. Rumors are swirling that Broderick was spotted having sex in the city with a "gorgeous" 25-year-old youth counselor while Parker was filming Sex and the City. Parker has previously alluded to a rocky marriage to the press saying, "we've had some rather treacherous train rides. I'm happy to be with him regardless, but I'm sure there are many times he wishes he wasn't with me."

Michelle Williams to make movie about Heath

Michelle Williams is producing a documentary about late actor Heath Ledger in the hopes that their two-year-old daughter, Matilda, will get a better idea of what her father was like. The Dawson's Creek star was left devastated after learning her ex-fiancé was found dead in his New York apartment after an accidental drug overdose this past winter. A source close to Williams told the Australian Daily Telegraph that "she wants to keep his spirit alive with something Matilda can treasure." Williams will reportedly have friends and co-workers of the late actor appear in the film sharing their personal stories. Williams met Ledger while shooting the Academy Award-winning Brokeback Mountain in 2004, and the couple split in 2007. Ledger's final completed performance in The Dark Knight is garnering Oscar buzz for his haunting portrayal of The Joker.

Film Fest Fever

This year's Toronto International Film Festival promises to be as star-studded as ever. Tribute has the scoop on which movies will be screening at the festival and the stars that will likely walk the red carpets.

Oscar winner Jennifer Hudson has become a red carpet pro. In her latest film, The Secret Life of Bees—which has a gala presentation—she plays a caregiver who flees a troubled household with the little girl she takes care of. Queen Latifah also stars.

If you're an Anne Hathaway fan, the rising starlet may appear at the fest to promote her film Rachel Getting Married, which has a gala presentation.

He may have newborn twins at home with partner Angelina Jolie, but Brad Pitt is rumored to be making an appearance in Toronto to promote Burn After Reading along with his pal George Clooney.

George Clooney will likely join pal Brad Pitt on the red carpet for Burn After Reading, directed by the Coen Brothers. The movie follows two gym employees who get their hands on secret CIA information and attempt to sell it.

Don't be surprised if you see Gerard Butler on the streets of Toronto promoting his latest flick, RocknRolla, co-starring Jeremy Piven and directed by Guy Ritchie.

Expect to see Evan Rachel Wood walking around town. She'll be here to support her film, The Wrestler, which also stars Mickey Rourke and Marisa Tomei.

Keira Knightley may put in an appearance for her next period drama, The Duchess.

Julianne Moore is known for serious dramatic roles and her part in Blindness is no exception. She plays the only person who can still see when an epidemic causes a city's entire population to lose their sight.

Torontonian Scott Speedman stars in Atom Egoyan's Adoration, which garnered lots of buzz when it premiered at the Cannes Film Festival. Speedman plays the uncle of a boy who lies about being the son of a terrorist to start an online debate.

Renée Zellweger has done it all—comedy, drama and even animated films. Now she's taking on a western with Appaloosa, which also stars Viggo Mortensen and Ed Harris.

With hits like Juno and Superbad under his belt, Canadian Michael Cera has become a certified star. His latest movie, Nick and Norah's Infinite Playlist, will make its debut at TIFF.

Viggo Mortensen stars in two movies screening this year—the drama Good, about the rise of German socialism, and the western Appaloosa, co-starring Renée Zellweger.

My Best Friend's Girl

Kate Hudson turns the tables on Dane Cook in their new romantic comedy

Spotlight: Dane Cook

There's something about Dane Cook. It may be his good looks, or the fact that he's an all around good guy. But ten to one, it's his notorious sense of humor.

His stand up comedy may have you squealing with laughter, shaking your head or simply cringing. But this is exactly the way Dane Cook wants his comedy routine to be. "I have to say after 15 years, the kind of comic I dreamed about being, I'm there," Cook has said. Adding to his success are his comedy CDs, including the smash hits Retaliation and Harmful if Swallowed, which have sold millions and have increased his fan base.

It's only befitting that this funny-man transition to the Hollywood big screen. It also helps to star alongside some of Hollywood's hottest sirens including Jessica Alba (Good Luck Chuck) and Jessica Simpson (Employee of the Month). Now, having snagged a co-starring role with Kate Hudson in My Best Friend's Girl, it seems Cook is on the path to becoming one of Tinseltown's great comedic actors.

FOR many guys it's all about getting the girl. Some will send flowers or chocolates. Others will buy jewellery. A few will even write little love notes. But for the guys in My Best Friend's Girl, these options simply won't do.

Enter Tank (Dane Cook), a professional rebound specialist who, for a fair fee, gets hired by recently dumped men to help them win back their girlfriends. Tank has mastered the skills of seducing—and revolting—women. His elaborate scheme involves taking recently single women on what can only be described as the worst dates of their lives, just to have them happily racing back into the arms of their former flames. But when Tank gets hired by his best friend Dustin (Jason Biggs), he finds himself falling head over heels for Alexis (Kate Hudson), the only one to call his bluff, and the very girl he's supposed to send running back to his best friend. Caught up in his own rebound fiasco, Tank must choose between loyalty and love.

Although Cook is known for his off-beat characters and his physical comedy, it's his romantic role as the flawed but lovable Tank that has him most excited. "I'm really proud of it. It's a greater step in a direction of what I want to do and how I want to do my comedy in film," Cook has said.

But that doesn't mean Cook's new form of comedy will have less laughs. My Best Friend's Girl promises to be an outrageously sexy, romantic comedy that will have you laughing out loud from start to finish. ■

Nicolas Cage proves his action skills once again in Bangkok Dangerous

WE all have rules to live by, but when you're a hit man, they are a little bit different. Joe (played by a long-haired Nicolas Cage) has four rules: 1. Don't ask questions. 2. There is no right and wrong. 3. Don't take an interest in anyone outside of work. 4. Know when to walk away... and walk away rich.

But when Joe travels to Thailand, he finds himself in unfamiliar territory, and his life at a crossroad. His target is a top-level politician—an assignment for which he's unprepared—and for the first time, he is beginning to question his career choice. It's all the fault of two people. First, Joe falls for a mysterious and then proceeded to hire the original creators, twin brothers Danny and Oxide Pang to direct. The transaction was big news in Thailand, since it was the first Thai film to be purchased for the purposes of a Hollywood makeover.

Cage was likely drawn to the stylish, violent flair that the Pang twins brought to the original, especially on a small budget. This time around, the Pangs' canvas is much more elaborate. With a big budget to work with, the action sequences are ratcheted up and the cinematography is spectacular.

Perhaps one of the strangest aspects of shooting was the fact that the Pang brothers (who are identical twins) would trade off directing duties from day to day, something which would often confuse and amuse the cast and crew. "I know a lot of people are amazed, but we do have a strong connection, I guess, as twins," explained Oxide. "There is always one Pang at a time; it helps us save our energy." ■

—Tom Jokic

Thai woman (the beautiful Panward Hemmanee) and then he finds he has an affinity for his loyal young mentor, Kong (played by Shahkrit Yamnarm). Originally, Joe plans to kill Kong when his assignment is complete, but the hardened hit man finds his heart is no longer in it.

Based on the 1999 Thai film of the same name, Cage purchased the rights for the film

Al Pacino, Robert De Niro, Carla Gugino, Curtis "50 Cent" Jackson

After 30 years as partners in the NYPD, highly decorated detectives David Fisk and Thomas Cowan are on the brink of retirement. But before they pack it in, they are called to investigate the murder of a notorious pimp, which appears to have ties to a case they think they had solved years before.

Tyler Perry's The Family That Preys

SEPTEMBER 12 DRAMA

Sanaa Lathan, Kathy Bates, Tyler Perry, Cole Hauser

When Charlotte (Bates) and Alice (Woodard) suddenly find their lives in turmoil, they decide to make a cross-country road trip hoping to rediscover themselves and possibly find a way to save their families from ruin.

The Women

SEPTEMBER 12 DRAMA

Meg Ryan, Eva Mendes, Jada Pinkett Smith, Annette Bening, Debra Messing

Based on the remake of George Cukor's 1939 proto-feminist comedy, the film follows the gossip, bitchy wisecracking, and overall disillusionment that erupt among a group of socialite friends when their dearest and most envied learns of her husband's marital infidelity at the hands of a backstabbing shop girl.

Appaloosa

SEPTEMBER 17 DRAMA

Viggo Mortensen, Renée Zellweger, Ed Harris, Jeremy Irons

Two friends (Harris and Mortensen) sent to Appaloosa to put a stop to a renegade rancher, find their plans spoiled and their friendship tested when an attractive widow arrives in town.

Blindness

SEPTEMBER 19 DRAMA

Julianne Moore, Mark Ruffalo, Don McKellar, Danny Glover, Gael García Bernal

In a chaotic city where criminals and the physically powerful prey upon the weak, there is only one eyewitness (Moore) whose sight is unaffected by a horrible plague that causes instant blindness. As she keeps her sight a secret, she tries to save the lives of a group of seven strangers who become her family.

The Duchess

SEPTEMBER 19 DRAMA

Keira Knightley, Ralph Fiennes, Dominic Cooper, Hayley Atwell

Determined to be a player in the political world, Georgiana Spencer, Duchess of Devonshire (Knightley), proved she could stand tête-à-tête with the aristocratic men who surrounded her. Although she made strides, she was haunted by the fact that the only man in England she seemingly could not seduce was her very own husband, the Duke (Fiennes). When she tried to find her own way to be true to her heart, the resulting controversies and convoluted liaisons would leave all of London talking.

Igor

SEPTEMBER 19 COMEDY

Voices: John Cusack, Steve Buscemi, Molly Shannon, Jeremy Piven

In a world filled with mad scientists and evil intentions, one mad scientist's hunchbacked lab assistant has big dreams of becoming a scientist and winning first place at the annual Evil Science Fair.

Lakeview Terrace

SEPTEMBER 19 THRILLER

Samuel L. Jackson, Patrick Wilson, Kerry Washington, Eva La Rue

A young couple (Wilson, Washington) become the target of their next-door neighbor who disapproves of their interracial relationship. When their neighbor won't leave them alone, the couple decides to fight back.

Management

A traveling saleswoman (Aniston) is pursued all over the United States by a man (Zahn) she had a fling with.

My Best Friend's Girl

SEPTEMBER 19 COMEDY

Kate Hudson, Dane Cook, Jason Biggs

Tank (Cook) is a serial dater who is hired by guys to take their ex-girlfriends out on the worst dates hoping it will send their exes running back into their arms. But when Tank's best friend (Biggs) enlists his help, he ends up falling for the girl (Hudson).

Taken

SEPTEMBER 19 ACTION

Liam Neeson, Maggie Grace, Famke Janssen

A former spy (Neeson) relies on his old skills to save his estranged daughter (Grace), who has been abducted and forced into the slave trade.

Whiteout

SEPTEMBER 19 THRILLER

Kate Beckinsale, Gabriel Macht

Three days before U.S. Marshal Carrie Stetko (Beckinsale) is to be going home, after being stationed in Antarctica for two years, a body turns up on the ice. Having to solve the area's first murder investigation, Carrie must solve the crime before she is stranded with the killer in complete darkness.

Choke

SEPTEMBER 26 DRAMA/COMEDY

Sam Rockwell, Anjelica Huston

By day, Victor Mancini (Rockwell) works at a colonial theme park, by night he scams upscale restaurants. In order to pay for his ailing mother's care, Victor pretends to choke on pieces of food, hoping fellow patrons feel responsible and send checks to support him.

Eagle Eye

SEPTEMBER 26 THRILLER

Shia LaBeouf, Michelle Monaghan, Rosario Dawson, Ethan Embry, Billy Bob Thornton

Two unsuspecting Americans, Jerry Shaw (LaBeouf) and Rachel Holloman (Monaghan), are drawn into a conspiracy by a mysterious woman they've never met. Realizing they're being used to further her diabolical plot, they must work together to outwit the woman before she has them killed.

The Lucky Ones

SEPTEMBER 26 DRAMA

Rachel McAdams, Tim Robbins, Michael Peña

When an unexpected blackout cancels all flights out of New York, TK Poole (Peña) agrees to share a ride to Pittsburgh with two similarly stranded servicemen: Cheever (Robbins) and Colee (McAdams) who all form an unlikely bond along the way.

Miracle at St. Anna

SEPTEMBER 26 DRAMA

John Leguizamo, John Turturro, James Gandolfini, D.B. Sweeney, Derek Luke, Michael Ealy, Joseph Gordon-Levitt

Four black American soldiers who are members of an all-black US Army Division stationed in Tuscany, Italy during World War II, get trapped behind enemy lines, and are separated from their unit after one of them risks their life to save an Italian boy.

Nights in Rodanthe

SEPTEMBER 26 DRAMA

Richard Gere, Diane Lane, James Franco

When Adrienne Willis (Lane) retreats to the tiny coastal town of Rodanthe to tend to a friend's inn, she unexpectedly falls in love with her only guest (Gere), and the two engage in a life-changing romance.

Beverly Hills Chihuahua

OCTOBER 3 COMEDY

Salma Hayek, Drew Barrymore, Piper Perabo, Jamie Lee Curtis, Andy Garcia, Cheech Marin, George Lopez

Pampered Chihuahua Chloe (voice of Barrymore) finds herself accidentally lost in the mean streets of Mexico and must rely on some unexpected new friends, including a street-hardened German Shepherd named Delgado (Garcia) and an amorous pup named Papi (Lopez), to help her find her way back home.

The Express

OCTOBER 3 DRAMA

Dennis Quaid, Clancy Brown, Darrin Dewitt Henson

College football hero Ernie Davis (Brown) was the first African-American to win the Heisman Trophy. Refusing to play by the rules, Ernie became an icon and inspiration during the civil rights movement.

How to Lose Friends and Alienate People

OCTOBER 3 COMEDY

Gillian Anderson, Jeff Bridges, Emily Denniston, Kirsten Dunst, Megan Fox, Simon Pegg

British writer Sidney Young (Pegg) struggles to fit in at Sharps, a magazine that goes against everything he believes in, and deal with the success that comes along with it.

Nick and Norah's Infinite Playlist

OCTOBER 3 COMEDY

Michael Cera, Kat Dennings

Though Nick (Cera) and Norah (Dennings) have nothing in common except for their taste in music, their chance encounter leads to an all-night hunt to find a legendary band's secret show.

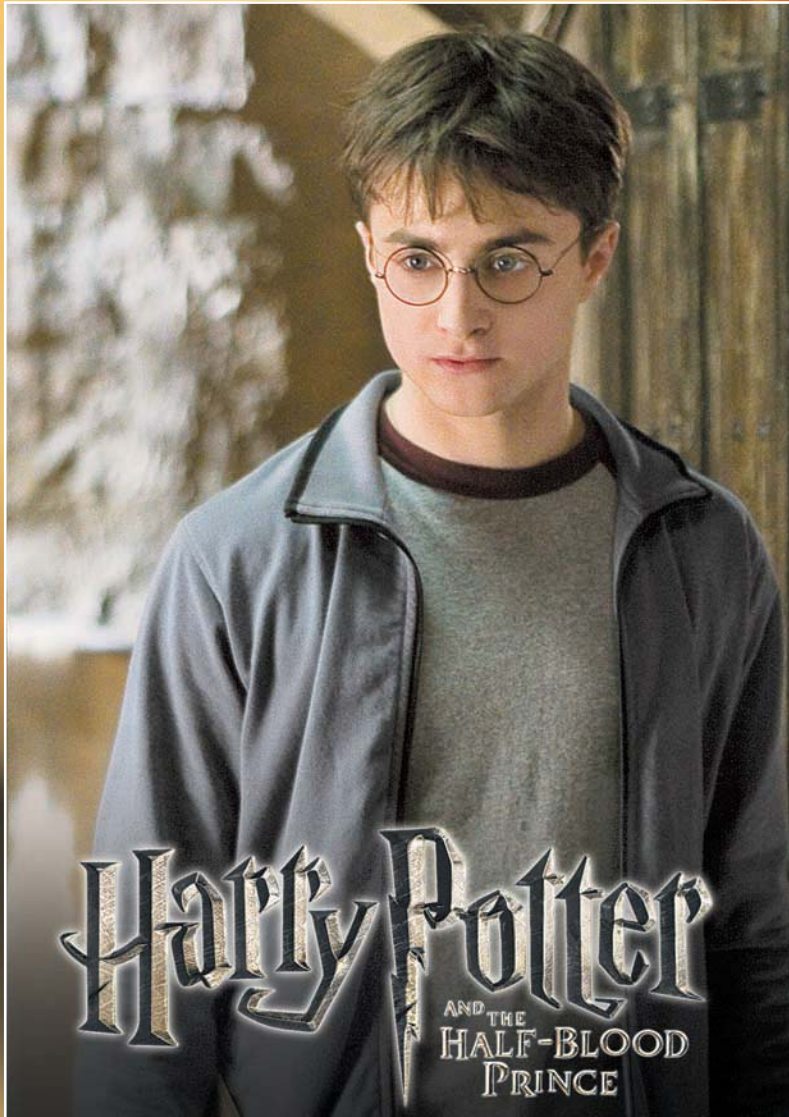

Where the Wild Things Are

OCTOBER 3 FAMILY

Paul Dano, Forest Whitaker, Catherine Keener, James Gandolfini, Lauren Ambrose, Catherine O'Hara, Michelle Williams

Max, a headstrong young boy, leaves home after a fight with his mother and finds himself in a mysterious forest. Rebellious and misunderstood, Max sets sail to a land inhabited by many large monsters and creatures known only as Wild Things.

Passchendaele

OCT 17 DRAMA

Paul Gross, Caroline Dhavernas, Joe Dinicol, Jim Mezon, Meredith Bailey, Michael Greyeyes, Gil Bellows

Set during the height of the First World War, Passchendaele follows Sergeant Michael Dunne (Gross), a soldier who is brutally wounded in France and returns to Calgary emotionally and physically scarred. While in the military hospital in Calgary, he meets Sarah (Dhavernas), a mysterious and attractive nurse with whom he develops a passionate love. When Sarah's younger asthmatic brother David (Dinicol) signs up to fight in Europe, Michael feels compelled to return to Europe to protect him. Michael and David, like thousands of Canadians, are sent to fight in the third battle of Ypres, a battle against impossible odds, commonly known as "Passchendaele." It is a story of passion, courage and dedication, showing the heroism of those that fought in battle, and of the ones that loved them.

Gross has said that he hopes the film, based on the true story of his grandfather, will educate the public on the bravery of Canada's military at the time. "What's amazing about the Canadian soldiers is that the term 'shock troops' was invented by the Germans to refer to us. We were the most feared in the British Order in battle. We were the most terrifying and that continued into the Second World War. We've sort of lost that... in how we teach our history. That doesn't mean because we were good warriors, let's go off and fight wars, but we should at least acknowledge what our history is."

Religulous

OCTOBER 3 DOCUMENTARY

Bill Maher

Well known for his stance against religion, self-professed atheist and comedian Bill Maher travels the globe to explore the world's religions in order to comment on the state of religious institutions and their social impact. Traveling to such religious destinations as Jerusalem and the Vatican, Maher uses his famous wit while interviewing believers from a variety of backgrounds and groups in order to fulfill this unusual spiritual journey.

They're back!

Your favorite stars on the small screen make a big comeback for the fall tv season

TILL lamenting last year's stunted season courtesy of the U.S. writers' strike? Weary from a summer of lowbrow matchmaking (does Tila Tequila really need a second shot at love?), an endurance test of the inane (how many Japanese game shows did you survive?) and more song-and-dance numbers than you can keep track of? Us too. But the end is in sight. Within weeks, the fall TV season will be upon us, and it may be the most-anticipated season ever.

Will Betty accept Gio's trip to Europe, or accept Henry's proposal? What will happen to Izzie on Grey's Anatomy?

Kicking off the OMG category of shows for the 18-to-34 crowd is 90210. After an eight-year banishment from our beloved zip code, creator Rob Thomas (who brought us Veronica Mars) transports us back to the halls of West Beverly High. Following in the footsteps of the highly successful Degrassi: The Next Generation, a new class will rule the halls, but BFFs Brenda and Kelly will all revisit the school, if not the renovated Peach Pit (now called, simply, the Pit). You can be sure dating, drama and deception—all the elements of a hit teen show in the making—will ensue.

Meanwhile, on the Upper East Side, Serena and Blair return for another season of shopping, sex and scandals (and a bit of school thrown in for good measure) in Gossip Girl, while in Surviving the Filthy Rich, a Yale grad finds herself tutoring twin teen billionaires (surprisingly not played by Mary-Kate and Ashley).

Shifting from the blissfully superficial to the supernatural, much-adored teen show producers Joss Whedon (Buffy) and J.J. Abrams (Felicity, Alias, Lost) each have a new science-fiction show to tout: Whedon brings us Dollhouse, a drama revolving around an illegal organization that rents out humans who can be personalized to do any kind of job, while Abrams gives us Fringe, in which a female FBI agent investigates scientific phenomena with the help of an institutionalized genius. Think Mulder and Scully with a dash of cynical (but oh-so-cute) Joshua Jackson. Rounding out the sci-fi category, Jerry Bruckheimer's Eleventh Hour features a biophysicist and his flirty FBI counterpart trying to save people from deadly scientific experiments in the U.S. remake of a British miniseries.

Also in the "Something Borrowed" category, a few other new-to-us shows make their North American debut. For the girls, there's The Ex-List, an Israeli dramedy adaptation that follows a florist on the hunt for her future husband while Kath and Kim redoes an Aussie sitcom featuring SNL-alum Molly Shannon as the mom to Selma Blair. So what if Shannon is only eight years older than Blair; in a world where facelifts are the new Manolos, we don't mind one bit.

For the boys, Life on Mars remakes a BBC series in which a present-day LAPD detective mysteriously ends up back in the '70s to fight crime in bellbottoms, unencumbered by cell-phones or the need to be politically correct. Joining the retro recall, Kit gets his ride pimped in the return of Knight Rider. Completing the roster of anticipated new shows are My Own Does Claire lose it in Heroes? Are the ladies of Desperate Housewives in for a surprise?

Worst Enemy, in which Christian Slater plays a suburban dad with a body-double killer and Worst Week, a no-laugh-track required comedy featuring a magazine editor named Sam who tries—and abominably fails—to please the parents of his girlfriend.

He's not the only Sam who'll make us laugh this season; Christina Applegate gets another shot at recovering her memory in Samantha Who?, one of the few gems from last year that got picked up for a second season. Chuck also gets a second life, which is a good thing given that the titular character is rumored to die twice this year. Mad Men—the show that garnered 16 Emmy noms—resumes 15 months from where Season One left off.

Much to our pleasure, everyone is still perfectly coiffed and still seductively smoking in both the boardroom and the bedroom in pitch-perfect attire. Other Emmy nominees Kristin Chenoweth and Lee Pace return to their you-can-look-but-you-can't-touch shenanigans in Pushing Daisies. This season they'll be joined by guest stars David Arquette as a horny dude, er, Randy Man and The O.C.'s Autumn Reeser as a Southern Belle named Kentucky Fritz.

Speaking of guest stars, Lindsay Lohan is set to flip burgers in six episodes of Ugly Betty, while we'll finally find out which boy's proposal Betty accepts. That's not the only question we're desperately seeking answers to, especially in shows where the writers' strike shortened some seasons to mere mini-series status. How will Lost's Oceanic Six return to the island? Will Nick George ever discover who killed his father on Dirty Sexy Money? What new mystery lurks for the Desperate Housewives of Wisteria Lane? Will Meredith and McDreamy ever get back together?

Hopefully we'll find out all as Heroes returns after a nine-and-a-half month hiatus, Lost misplaces one female cast member for Season Five (though she'll return for the final season), Neil Patrick Harris suits up for Season Four of How I Met Your Mother, King Henry the Hot continues his reign in The Tudors, Dexter goes on more justified killing sprees in Season Three, and Ari, Eric, Turtle and Johnny Drama conspire to get Vince's career back on top in Season Five of Entourage. Which leaves only one remaining question unanswered: can our PVRs handle it all?

From the pretentious to the paranormal and the demented to the dramatic, and the utterly hilarious, we give you the scoop on some of the season's hottest fall shows. You won't want to miss it! ■

— fall TV previews —

After traveling through this year's press tour, TV expert Bill Brioux gives you the lowdown on what to expect this upcoming season.

90210 New!

Starring: Sheneae Grimes, Dustin Milligan, Jennie Garth, Shannen Doherty

The buzz: Can a '90s phenomenon spark again in a new century? The new show is a little different, but Canada's own Grimes is playing the same kind of fish out of water character Doherty played in the original. The fact that this series is from the producers behind such well-written shows as Freaks & Geeks holds promise.

The Big Bang Theory

Starring: Johnny Galecki, Jim Parsons, Kaley Cuoco, Simon Helberg

Where we left off: Penny breaks it off with her boyfriend and decides to go out with Leonard, and have their first kiss.

Coming up: The backgrounds of the major characters will be explored further and fans can expect some form of resolution between the Leonard and Penny situation. Sara Gilbert will also be returning for several episodes.

Chuck

Starring: Zachary Levi, Yvonne Strahovski, Adam Baldwin, Sarah Lancaster

Where we left off: Chuck finds a bug in the Buy More, which leads super spies Casey and Sarah to take drastic measures to find out whether the truth about Chuck has been discovered.

Coming up: The season starts with an assassination attempt on one of the main characters' lives. There will be loads of action and many guest stars including John Larroquette (Night Court) and Michael Clarke Duncan.

Desperate Housewives

Starring: Teri Hatcher, Eva Longoria, Marcia Cross, Felicity Huffman, Nicollette Sheridan

Where we left off: The season ended jumping ahead in time five years. Glamorous Gabrielle is now frumpy looking and Nicollette Sheridan is still some how in the cast. What's that all about?

Coming up: Edie will return to Wisteria Lane "in a very surprising way," the show's creator Marc Cherry said. Along with her return is a new man to be played by Neal McDonough. "He will be bringing a new mystery with him, and all I'm going to tell you is that he has revenge on his mind."

Desperate Housewives

Dexter

Dexter

Starring: Michael C. Hall, Jennifer Carpenter, Julie Benz, James Remar

Where we left off: Our serial killer hero struggles with his good and bad sides before killing Lila in Paris. A happy ending!

Coming up: The third season brings an ambitious new D.A. to town (played by The West Wing's Jimmy Smits), and Dexter finds himself telling this dude more about himself than he has told anybody else. Why? "He's simultaneously attracted to and repulsed by the idea of a sort of intimacy with another person," Hall explained on this summer's TV press tour.

Eli Stone

Starring: Jonny Lee Miller, Natasha Henstridge, Victor Garber, Loretta Devine

Where we left off: Eli tries a death case around the time of his own surgery, in which his tumor is removed.

Coming up: Katie Holmes guest stars as a lawyer that doesn't practice, but needs Eli's help. Word also has it that she will be singing and dancing during the episode.

Fringe

Entourage

Starring: Jeremy Piven, Adrian Grenier, Kevin Connolly, Kevin Dillon, Jerry Ferrara

Where we left off: When we last left the boys they were partying in Cannes. But when Vince's film "Medellin" bombs at the festival screening, the Hollywood party looks to be over.

Coming up: Sopranos' star Jamie-Lynn Sigler, rapper Bow Wow (playing a comedian) and Harry Potter player Jason Isaacs all join the cast.

Entourage

Fringe New!

Starring: Joshua Jackson, Anna Torv

The buzz: Creator J.J. Abrams has one of the hottest hands in Hollywood. This series starts with a plane crash leading to a discovery of paranormal activity. The pilot, which was shot in Toronto, was creepy good, and stars Aussie newcomer Anna Torv, who plays the determined FBI agent at the centre of this Fringe. This could also be Joshua Jackson's big comeback.

fall TV previews

Gossip Girl

Starring: Blake Lively, Leighton Meester, Chase Crawford, Ed Westwick, Penn Badgley, Taylor Momsen

Where we left off: Blair gives in to Chuck's advances but at the last minute Chuck decides to go back to his wild ways. Serena and Dan break up due to Georgina's meddling.

Coming up: Chuck and Blair take Serena and Dan's place as the show's hottest couple. Nate will have a new lady in his life but it won't be Serena or Blair.

Grey's Anatomy

Starring: Patrick Dempsey, Ellen Pompeo, Sandra Oh, Katherine Heigl, Eric Dane

Where we left off: In the strike-shortened third season, the finale found Meredith reuniting with Derek. Everybody else, it seems, smooched in the finale, including Alex and Izzie.

Coming up: Series creator Shonda Rhimes says that the lesbian storyline will continue next season. "We have a really interesting, wonderful, funny way of laying out the story of Callie and Erica that I'm pretty excited about," she told critics this summer.

Heroes

Starring: Hayden Panettiere, Adrian Pasdar, Masi Oka, Ali Larter, Greg Grunberg

Where we left off: Sylar gets his powers back, Nathan Petrelli gets shot and Peter finds the antidote thanks to his time traveling pal Hiro.

Coming up: It's all about the villains.

The season premiere will jump four years into the future, with cheerleader Claire, now brunette, gunning for Peter. But the question is, which Peter? (Suddenly there are two of them.)

How I Met Your Mother

Starring: Josh Radnor, Jason Segel, Neil Patrick Harris, Alyson Hannigan, Cobie Smulders

Where we left off: Ted breaks up with Stella but immediately wants to take it back after a life-changing experience. Ted agrees to be friends with Barney again after he has a serious accident on his way to see him in the hospital. Ted asks Stella (will she be revealed as "the mother?") to marry him.

Coming up: Canadian-born Sarah Chalke (Scrubs) joins the series.

House

Starring: Hugh Laurie, Lisa Edelstein, Omar Epps, Jennifer Morrison

Where we left off: After a terrible bus accident (and another misdiagnosis), Wilson's girlfriend Amber dies, and Wilson blames House for her death.

Coming up: London, Ont.-born series creator David Shore was tight-lipped at press tour on details for the coming season but word has it that when House returns we'll learn if Wilson makes good on his threat to quit the hospital.

Knight Rider New!

Starring: Justin Bruening

The buzz: The new man behind KITT's wheel—Justin Bruening—says the series will be a little grittier, less campy than the TV-movie aired last season. Bruening actually took driving lessons at a test track this summer to be more hands on with the Shelby Mustang. Val Kilmer continues to speak for KITT.

ducer Carlton Cuse told the critics this summer. How Jack and Kate and four other main characters return to the island, "is going to be something that you see a lot of in Season Five," he says.

Mad Men

Starring: Jon Hamm,

Elisabeth Moss, January Jones,

Vincent Kartheiser, Rich Sommer

Where we left off: A brilliant, critically acclaimed rookie season ended with the birth of a baby and an empty house.

Coming up: The series jumps ahead a few years. A change of authority will be made at the ad agency and everyone's life changes with the integration of new technology.

Knight Rider

Lost

Starring: Matthew Fox, Evangeline Lilly, Naveen Andrews, Jorge Garcia, Josh Holloway, Yunjin Kim

Where we left off: The big twist at the end of last season was a doozy—we learn that the whole island mystery has been a flash forward, that Jack and Kate will make it off the island and that a depressed Jack feels they must both go back.

Coming up: "Ben makes it kind of clear at the very end of the final episode that it's important they all go back on the island," executive pro-

The Office

Starring: Steve Carell,

John Krasinski, Rainn Wilson

Where we left off: Chaos ensues when relationships go awry including Michael leaving Jan. Jim's proposal to Pam hits a snag when Andy interrupts with his public proposal to Angela, Coming up: The season premiere is promising to be the funniest show with an appearance by Mad Men's Rich Sommer who will be in a surprise plot twist. Amy Ryan also returns.

Private Practice

Starring: Kate Walsh, Tim Daly, Taye Diggs, Amy Brenneman

Where we left off: Addison is conflicted about her dating life. Another rookie series cut short by the writers' strike, with only nine episodes airing.

Coming up: Less soapy stuff, more surgery next season, according to ABC execs. Creator Shonda Rhimes says she wants to make the medical cases stronger and is most excited about "those medical cases that involve a moral and ethical dilemma for the characters." Grant Show (Melrose Place) guest stars.

Pushing Daisies

Where we left off: Ned tries to make amends with Chuck after his confession, and Emerson finds a corpse in ice.

Coming up: Olive is feeling the strain of all the secrets she is keeping, including Chuck being alive and her own feelings for Ned, and heads to a nunnery for a break. David Arquette also joins the cast as one of Ned's pals and Stephen Root also guest stars.

Pushing Daisies

Smallville

Smallville

Starring: Tom Welling, Allison Mack, Kristin Kreuk, Michael Rosenbaum, Erica Durance

Where we left off: Lex figures things out, finds the Fortress of Solitude and sees a glowing light in the crystals and pulls out the device. When Clark shows up Lex places the device on the crystals and the whole Fortress comes tumbling down.

Coming up: In Season Eight we finally see Clark fulfill his destiny as Superman. He joins the "Daily Planet" and uses his new gig as a way to find people in need. He also starts to realize that he may need a double identity.

Supernatural

Starring: Jared Padalecki, Jensen Ackles

Where we left off: When we last saw Dean, his body was dead and his soul was suspended somewhere in the depths of Hell.

Coming up: The show is apparently staging an entirely B&W episode this fall. Series creator Eric Kripke recently said, "It's an homage to the horror films of the '30s. The boys are up against Dracula, the Wolfman and the Mummy. It's the most fun episode we've done in a long time."

Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles

Starring: Lena Headey, Thomas Dekker, Summer Glau

Where we left off: Still trying to find The Turk, we saw Cameron getting into a car that explodes.

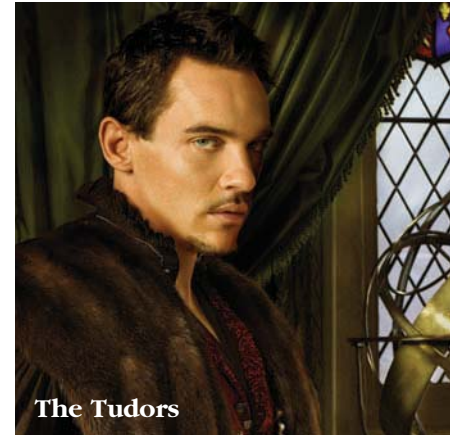

Coming up: Expect Sara's ex to make an appearance as well as Brian Austin Green's character to return for what is said to be an action-packed season. Plus, Shirley Manson joins the cast.

The Tudors

Starring: Jonathan Rhys Meyers, Natalie Dormer, Henry Cavill, James Frain

Where we left off: King Henry's ego rears its ugly head when he declares himself head of the church and seeks an annulment from his first wife, Queen Katherine of Aragon.

Coming up: King Henry VIII literally cleans house in court, making good on the show's tagline 'heads will roll.'

The Tudors

Two and a Half Men

Starring: Charlie Sheen, Jon Cryer, Angus T. Jones

Where we left off: Alan admits he has a crush on Charlie's new, older girlfriend, and Charlie discovers that he dated his girlfriend's son's fiancée.

Coming up: Watch for Jake to start getting into teenage hijinks (just like his Uncle Charlie).

Ugly Betty

Starring: America Ferrera, Eric Mabius, Rebecca Romijn, Vanessa Williams

Where we left off: Betty was left to choose between her sandwich vendor suitor Gio, who wanted to whisk her off to Rome, and smitten accountant Henry, who made a hasty marriage proposal.

Coming up: Who will Betty choose? "We'll just say it's not black and white, not yes or no," Ferrera said. One thing is for sure—look for the series to shoot more outdoors and on location now that the series has shifted production to New York City.

Baby Mama SEPTEMBER 9

Kate Holbrook (Tina Fey), 37, is smart, successful and longs to have a baby. When she finds out she can't get pregnant, she hires Angie Ostrowski (Amy Poehler) to become her unlikely surrogate. Once Angie has become her 'Baby Mama,' Kate's life is turned upside down.

tribute.ca user reviews ★★★★★

"This is the best movie I've seen in years!"

"Very boring, not that funny at all."

Speed Racer SEPTEMBER 16

Racecar driver Speed Racer (Emile Hirsch) has been racing cars his entire life. When he finds out races are being fixed to boost profits, he finds his life in danger. With the support of his girlfriend (Christina Ricci), Speed must find a way to beat the companies at their own game, and win the race that took his brother's life.

tribute.ca user reviews ★★★★★

"Great movie for parents and kids!"

"Very disappointing."

Made of Honor SEPTEMBER 16

Tom (Patrick Dempsey) has everything he could ask for, including a great best friend in Hannah (Michelle Monaghan). When she leaves for Scotland, he suddenly realizes his perfect friendship could be the perfect relationship. When Hannah returns engaged to another man and asks Tom to be her maid of honor, he accepts only so he can stop the wedding.

tribute.ca user reviews ★★★★★

"It was such a cute movie!"

"Predictable and juvenile."

Leatherheads SEPTEMBER 23

Aging football hero Dodge Connolly (George Clooney) is determined to guide his team to victory through college football star Carter Rutherford (John Krasinski). When his too-good-to-be-true attitude is questioned by newswoman Lexie Littleton (Renée Zellweger) she not only finds holes in his story, but is caught in a love triangle between the two men.

"I enjoyed it tremendously!"

"Very disappointing. I fell asleep."

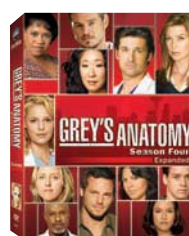

Desperate Housewives: The Complete Fourth Season SEPTEMBER 2

Scandal is nothing new for Wisteria Lane residents, but when a new neighbor moves in (Dana Delany), no one could have predicted just how big a secret she was keeping. When a major disaster strikes this season, the women learn just how important their friendships and family are.

Grey's Anatomy: The Complete Fourth Season SEPTEMBER 9

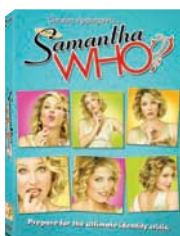

SEPTEMBER 9

After passing their exams last season, Meredith (Ellen Pompeo) and her friends are looking forward to having interns of their own. This season, Meredith and Cristina must deal with life without their loves, while everyone else deals with the new chief resident.

Samantha Who?: The Complete First Season SEPTEMBER 23

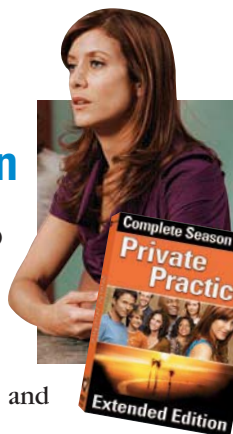

After emerging from an eight-day coma, Samantha (Christina Applegate) can't remember anything. Determined to find out who she is, she finds unlikely allies in those around her, including her ex-boyfriend Todd (Barry Watson).

Private Practice: The Complete First Season SEPTEMBER 16

SEPTEMBER 16

Dr. Addison Montgomery (Kate Walsh) leaves Seattle for California in the hopes of reinventing herself. She takes a job at a private clinic where she must learn to deal with the diverse set of specialties the doctors practice and the variety of patients they treat.

Aries (MAR 21 - APR 20)

Pick up your cues! (Like a hint from a superior about moving up the ladder.) Show you're ready for a change in status and stick to your guns in all negotiations. By the 11th, you'll be ready to play out a steamy romantic scene or two. Late in the month, though, you're just restless with no particular place to go.

Taurus (APR 21 - MAY 21)

Summer is almost over, and you hit the doldrums as far as work is concerned. Fortunately, the month ushers in one of the most romantic periods of the year! Even if unattached, the hunt will take you into pleasurable territory as will an impromptu weekend getaway near month's end.

Virgo (AUG. 24 - SEPT. 23)

Finally there's a breather after August's stormy eclipses. Tie up loose ends from summer projects through the 9th. After that, make a battle plan to land that promotion. If you're free, a few strategically aimed come-hither looks won't go unnoticed around the 22nd. But true love then is found by the bold.

Libra (SEPT. 24 - OCT. 23)

Why, oh why, must summer end? But as soon as the 7th you stop dragging your heels and dive into a new project. Home improvement ranks high on the agenda. As does making some alterations to your other half's attitude. The passion potential is high around the 14th. Best times to get what you need: 21st and 22nd.

Capricorn (DEC. 22 - JAN. 20)

Always organized, unexpected Labour Day weekend visitors fail to throw you. In fact, you welcome the chance to fulfil your social obligations because from the 3rd on, you're all business. Make your big push before the 24th. After that confusion reigns, so be prepared to repeat yourself.

Aquarius (JAN. 21 - FEB. 18)

It's lights, camera, and plenty of action on the romance front. Your other half picks up the cues, especially around the 16th. That's also an optimum time for work-related socializing. Travel now becomes a preoccupation following the 22nd, but more than one crossed wire tests your patience to the limit.

Pisces (FEB. 19 - MAR. 20)

Labour Day weekend just might bring fireworks. At the very least, it will light a fire under a loved one's financial situation. Don't make too much noise at work, though, as a low profile works best. Around the 22nd, a new romantic co-star enters the scene, if you're eligible. The plot thickens, and in a way you like.

Ryan Phillippe Virgo, September 10, 1974, Delaware

Virgo is a sign known for being on the shy side and rather self-effacing. Even though blessed with model good looks, Ryan had to be coaxed into an acting career by a casting agent who spotted him getting a haircut. Now divorced from Reese Witherspoon, Ryan has moved into more serious roles. Virgos, more than any other sign, tend to hook up with people they work with. Sure enough, Ryan is now romantically linked to Abbie Cornish, his co-star from Stop-Loss. Also true to his sign, he claims to not want to be a movie star. He's said to have a passion for making and producing movies and his chart shows that would be a highly successful route for him heading into 2009.

Star Struck

What the stars have planned for you

Gemini (MAY 22 - JUNE 21)

The career pace quickens immediately after Labour Day. You're off on a social whirl, plus dealing with a big career move and possibly a new romance. Good thing you're the champ of multi-tasking! Your fine-pitched nerves begin to fray by the 24th. Schedule extra downtime, such as a spa visit à deux.

Cancer (JUNE 22 - JULY 22)

It's your day in the sun, Cancer style. You gladly take charge of Labour Day barbecue plans, plus get the kids outfitted for school. You can find great bargains for yourself around the 14th. Later, get out and play the glad-handing game. You just might schmooze your way into a new job.

Leo (JULY 23 - AUG. 23)

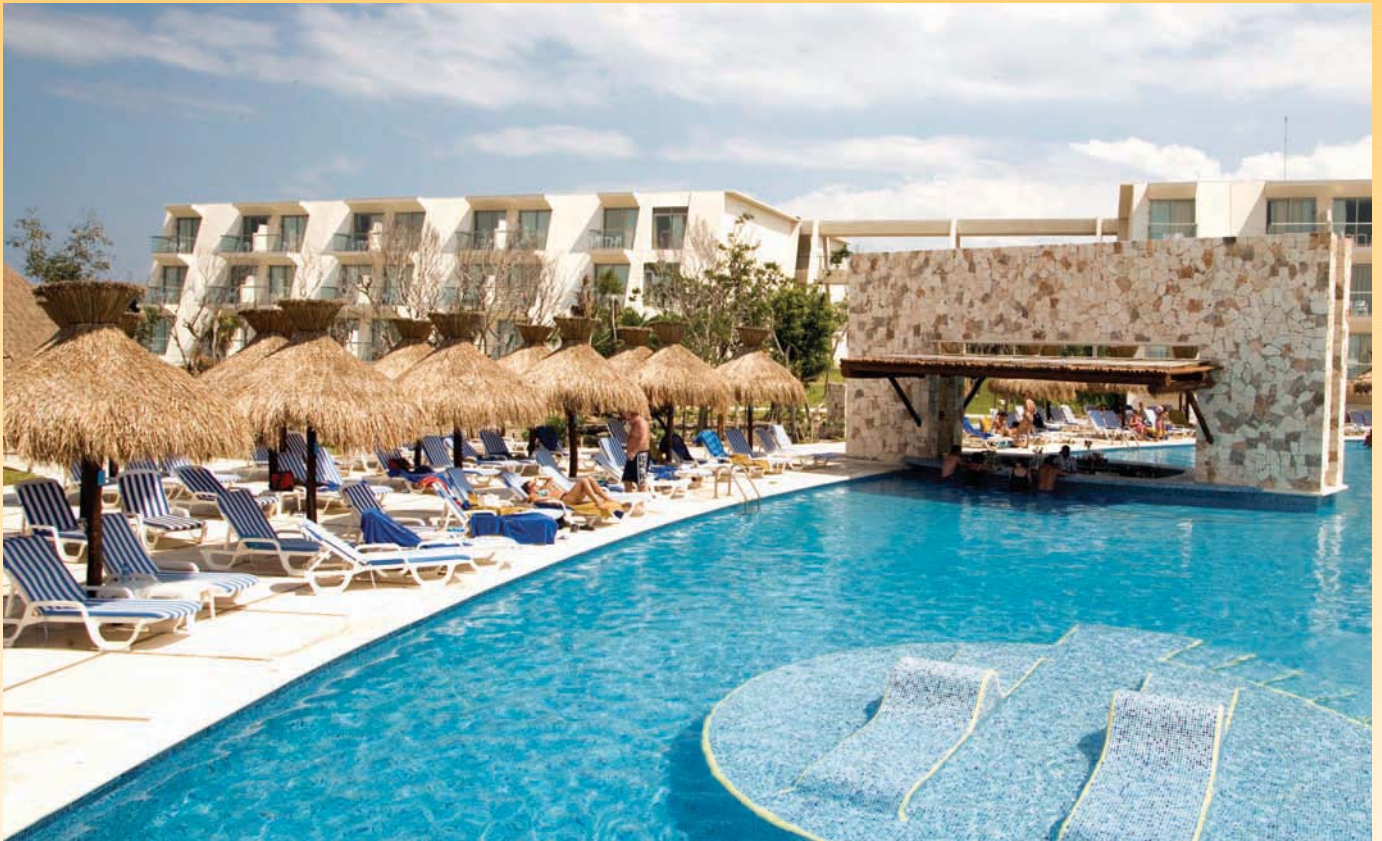

The revolving door on the job front makes you feel like you're going in circles. Flexibility and a clear head are called for. Watch your adlibs around higher-ups. Around the 22nd, the social whirl sweeps you up and out on the town. Get ready for your own true-life romance with a once-distant co-star.

Scorpio (OCT. 24 - NOV. 22)

A friend in need becomes one indeed around the 3rd. Practice listening skills, and phrase all advice carefully. Need a new agent? Midmonth you're surrounded at work by bit players who pester you with petty, nagging concerns. Retreat to home base, where loved ones play supporting roles with gusto.

Sagittarius (NOV. 23- DEC.21)

New season means a fresh start. Yet you're still puttering around after Labour Day. Better strategy: Go where you can seek and be seen by those with clout. Meanwhile, an active social life takes your mind off things from the 22nd on. One person in particular helps you expand your outlook on life.

KATE HUDSON doesn't let her single-mom status to four-year-old son, Ryder, get in the way of her dating life. Since divorcing Black Crowes frontman, Chris Robinson, this hot momma is making up for lost time by dipping into Hollywood's man-pool. Her irresistible blonde locks and cute-as-a-button smile have leading men—from rockers to actors to athletes—falling at her feet. Not one to let a friendship get in her way, Hudson spent cuddle time with Owen Wilson and then traded up for his good friend Lance Armstrong. In her new role as Alexis in My Best Friend's Girl, life imitates art as Hudson becomes the object of affection of best friends played by Jason Biggs and Dane Cook. With so many boys to choose from, what's a girl to do?

1 New daddy MATTHEW MCCONAUGHEY was smitten for Hudson on the set of How to Lose a Guy in 10 Days, but had to wait patiently for his costar to split from her hubbie. When the two were reunited for this year's Fool's Gold sparks were flying on and off camera, but nothing came of their flirtations.

2 OWEN WILSON, the rumored cause of Hudson's divorce, swept Hudson off her feet while they were promoting You, Me & Dupree. Wilson's depression was apparently too much for her to handle and the couple split after a year. Just before shaggy-haired John Mayer stepped in, Wilson was reportedly getting it on with his Marely & Me co-star, Jennifer Aniston.

3 Not long before HEATH LEDGER's tragic death, rumors began surfacing about a brief but passionate make-out session with Hudson, his Four Feathers costar, during an event in New York's trendy Beatrice Inn.

4 ELIJAH BLUE ALLMAN, son of Cher and Gregg Allman, sparked Hudson's obsession with bad-boy rockers. The couple's romance lasted for a year, in which the two reportedly spent most of their rocky relationship in bed.

5 LANCE ARMSTRONG first met Hudson after good friend Owen Wilson introduced the two. The new couple has caused a stir with the tabloids despite their efforts to keep their relationship private. But happiness wasn't in the cards for these two who have recently parted ways.

6 JANET JACKSON, the now settled Mrs. Jermaine Dupri, got her rhythm nation on with more than a few of Hollywood's hunks back in the day including Tupac Shakur, Justin Timberlake, and "Sexiest Man Alive" Matthew McConaughey.

7 DEMI MOORE has made a habit of going after younger men. Before marrying Ashton Kutcher, 30, Moore was seen gallivanting around town with a much younger Tobey Maguire, Colin Farrell and Leonardo DiCaprio.

8 The tamer of Hollywood's most famous twins, ASHLEY OLSEN, seems to like her men one way or older. She's been linked to "been-around-the-block" Jared Leto, "old-enough-to-be-her-father" Lance Armstrong and "man-whore" Wilmer Valderrama.

9 Before becoming one half of Brangelina, BRAD PITT spent most of his time practicing his moves on half of Hollywood's leading ladies. From Uma Thurman, Juliette Lewis, Julia Ormond and Gwyneth Paltrow to Demi Moore, Claire Forlani and Nicole Appleton, Pitt has tired of his serial dating ways and has become a doting father of six.

10 LEONARDO DICAPRIO makes hooking up with young starlets, from Claire Danes to Kate Moss to Sienna Miller, look like his second job. But rumor has it that the Body of Lies star is finally ready to settle down with his on again off again girlfriend and Victoria Secret model, Bar Rafaeli.

11 Even though we haven't seen him in a movie in ages, JARED LETO still manages to snag barely legal leading ladies including Ashley Olsen and Lindsay Lohan. He was recently rumored to have caused a rift in Jessica Simpson and Tony Romo's romance.

12 JENNIFER ANISTON, has hopped from Adam Duritz to Orlando Bloom to Vince Vaughn since her split from Brad Pitt. But her latest beau, crooner John Mayer, has turned her into a groupie—she's joined him on his tour bus and is by his side backstage after every concert.

13 Leftovers anyone? CAMERON DIAZ seems to like scooping up Jennifer Aniston's exes. She's sunk her teeth into Aniston's former flames including Vince Vaughn, John Mayer, and current boytoy and British model, Paul Sculfor. The two have been inseparable since June.

14 Political activist and uber-hot SCARLETT JOHANSSON has been linked to most of Hollywood's leading men, and even a politician or two. Johansson reportedly caused quite the commotion for Barack Obama's campaign when she jokingly announced to the Associated Press that she was engaged to the presidential hopeful. The statement, however, was only meant to deflect attention away from her actual engagement to Canadian hottie Ryan Reynolds.

15 WINONA RYDER has avoided the press since her shoplifting scandal, but that hasn't stopped her from snagging the hottest stars. While filming The Private Lives of Pippa Lee, Ryder and Keanu Reeves have been spotted spending "quality" time in each other's trailers.

16 After starring together in The Royal Tenenbaums, LUKE WILSON and Gwyneth Paltrow hooked up for a quick romp. Wilson also had a long-term relationship with Drew Barrymore, and since her break up with Justin Long, reunion rumors are sparking.

17 JUSTIN TIMBERLAKE is responsible for bringing sexy back to Cameron Diaz, Scarlett Johansson, Britney Spears and Stacy Ferguson; but he's currently rocking the body of Jessica Biel. Things are apparently getting serious—the couple recently shacked up together in Timberlake's six bedroom Hollywood home.

Big stars on the small screen

HOLLYWOOD'S A-list has discovered a great way to boost their profiles—by guest starring on a popular television show. Appearing on TV is no longer seen as a step down for major celebs, as today's shows are bigger, better and more popular than ever. Whether a star is looking to improve their reputation or increase their exposure, guest spots have become super hot.

One of the most buzzed-about, and rumored guest appearances this season is Julia Roberts on 24. The star, whose career has been relatively quiet over the past few years, will team up with her former fiancé, Kiefer Sutherland, on his hit drama. Roberts infamously left Sutherland at the altar in 1991. Despite their history, the pair remain friends and it's said that Sutherland wanted Roberts to guest star so that the series would go out with a bang (rumors swirl that it's the show's last season).

Unfortunately for Courteney Cox, her show Dirt was cancelled, but that doesn't mean she's giving up the small screen quite yet. The former "Friend" will lend her acting talents to the cast of Scrubs this season. She will play the new Chief of Medicine in a three-episode story arc.

Katie Holmes will also be returning to her television roots with a guest spot on Eli Stone. The former Dawson's Creek star has been snapped on set of the show with daughter Suri and husband Tom Cruise in tow.

Reformed bad girl Nicole Richie and (possibly) reformed bad girl Lindsay Lohan will prove their acting chops and work ethics on the small screen this year. Lohan will reprise her role on Ugly Betty as Betty's high school tormentor and Richie will, coincidentally, also be playing a former high school bully in an episode of Chuck.

You'll also be able to tune in to see Seth Green on My Name is Earl as a former Make-a-Wish child, Giovanni Ribisi on Entourage and Christina Ricci on Saving Grace. With the boost in ratings for the shows and the great exposure for celebs, expect to see more favorite stars on the boob tube.
